

Alberto Marsico & Organ Logistics

Organ Logistics started their musical activity in 2004. The line-up is Alberto Marsico (organ), Diego Borotti (sax), Lorenzo Frizzera (guitar) and Gio Rossi (drums).

Their first record (Organ Logistics) was soon recorded in Germany, and issued for Organic Music. Their repertoire follows the “jazz organ quartet” mainstream, with all its bluesy and funky sound, but sometimes these four musicians take different musical directions, adding some contemporary jazz moods and atmospheres to their music.

Organ Logistics are based in Italy, but they often played in other countries, like Austria, Germany, France, Czech Republic and Russia. They also made ensemble music workshops in a lot of schools and Conservatories around Europe.

Their second record, called Take A Walk on the Moon has been issued by Organic Music, and it features the great Jesse Davis on alto saxophone. The record has been presented in Munich and recorded by National Bayern Radio.

Their third record, “The B Side of the Fish”. has been recorded in Milan for Limen Music and it is a double packaged CD and DVD. The DVD features all the live video recordings of the session, plus interviews and extra bonus tracks.
